Understanding Student e-Learning Accounts

The computers, network and internet access are provided by the school or parents to help with work in class.

Students have completed lessons explaining how they will use these services in a proper manner and understand that they must abide by the following when using my e-Learning Account from any computer.

♦ they will use the computer + tablets to learn about many things
♦ they will only use the school computers + tablets with the permission of a teacher
♦ they will follow all teacher instructions when using school computers
♦ they will not damage or disable the computers, computer systems or computer networks of the school, the NSW Department of Education and Communities or any other organisation
♦ they will not interfere with, damage, change or delete anyone else’s work or web page ♦ they will not let anyone else know what their password is ♦ they know they are responsible for all activity in their e-learning + Google account
♦ they know that the school and the NSW Department of Education and Communities can see anything they send or receive
♦ they will tell their teacher if they think someone has interfered with their e-learning account
♦ they will make sure that any email they send, or work they wish to publish, is polite and carefully written and presented
